learning.*

What is an AEA?

Central Rivers AEA is one of nine Area Education Agencies in Iowa. Area Education Agencies were created in 1974 by the Iowa legislature to ensure equal educational opportunities for children from birth to age 21. Support to local schools is provided through three service areas: Educational Services, Information Technology Services and Special Education Services.

A nine-member board of directors is elected by local school boards to govern budget decisions. The chief administrator handles the daily operation of the agency's service areas, each of which is headed by a director. In addition to the main office in Cedar Falls, the agency also has offices in Marshalltown and Clear Lake.

Who does Central Rivers AEA serve?

- 63,500+ students
- 5,000 educators
- 53 public school districts
- 23 non-public school districts
- 18 counties covering nearly 9,000 square miles

In the implementation phase, services focus on putting educational plans and strategies into action. This involves coaching and support around the implementation of evidence-based practices; ongoing professional development; structured time for planning, reflection, and collaboration; resource integration; and monitoring progress to ensure successful execution and sustainable improvement in student learning outcomes.

Sustainability Support

In the sustainability phase, services aim to maintain and build upon the progress achieved during implementation.
